How can a Novartis OPM presentation be scheduled?
Oncology practices may inquire about or schedule an OPM presentation with their Novartis Oncology contact. Novartis personnel will handle the logistics of arranging the presentation for the oncology practice with the OPM speaker.

What types of topics are covered in the OPM presentation series?
In 2017, the topics that OPM speakers may present include:

- Managing Oral Oncology Products Throughout the Patient Continuum of Care
- Adopting Patient Satisfaction Assessments to Address Quality Care and Policy Implementation

Does the Novartis OPM Program provide other offerings?
Yes, in addition to the OPM presentations, the Novartis OPM Program provides OPM Tipsheets to oncology practices.

OPM Program Mission Statement
The Novartis Oncology Practice Manager (OPM) Program is a nationwide educational platform that provides information to oncology practices on current and ongoing health care trends and policies that affect oncology patient care and access to treatment.

What is the Novartis OPM Program?
In today’s constantly evolving and increasingly complex health care environment, it is key for oncology practices to keep abreast of policy, reimbursement, and practice management changes with the most accurate and up-to-date information. Additionally, it is important for oncology health care professionals to use effective communication techniques when discussing topics related to cancer care with patients.

In the oncology community nationwide, the Novartis OPM Program is recognized as a reliable source of relevant and timely information on health care trends that affect oncology patient care, access to treatment, and practice management.

Designed as an educational platform, the Novartis OPM Program is made up of a dedicated speakers group of experts who deliver presentations and programs on the topics that have been identified as the most relevant to frontline oncology practice management and patient access to care.

Why schedule a Novartis OPM presentation?
In the ever-changing health care landscape, it is important to understand the trends that affect quality and access to oncology patient care and to utilize effective communication techniques and resources when discussing sensitive cancer care topics with patients and their caregivers.

Novartis’ OPM Program provides on-site presentations across the country in which OPM speakers educate oncology practices with the latest information available on oncology-related topics, without interrupting the patient flow of care.
